

Accous,
February 12th 2009

We live in a little Premonstratensian place, of the order established in 1121 by Saint Norbert in Aisne in order to combine contemplative and pastoral life.

Our house is located in Accous, in the Aspe Valley, on the way to Santiago de Compostella called « the Arles Way », or the « South Way ». That is how we were delighted to welcome Pierre-Jean and Xavier at our place. We were moved by their project et we are definitely willing to stay in touch with them. We truly shared with them, they even fixed our computer.

We do hope they will make their project happen. We know American people will friendly welcome them. Maybe Pierre-Jean and Xavier wil meet some descendant from Basque or béarnaise shepherd, especially in California (many of them left to Argentina, like the first President of the Argentinian republic, Juan martin de Poeyredon).

We hope to hear from the boys,

Brother Pierre.
