To whom it may concern.

I hereby inform you that Pierre-Jean de Stexhe is one of my students. It has been a pleasure to have him in my communication- and team- oriented English classes. Pierre-Jean has been involved in a great deal of group work and has always carried his load with a creative and resourceful attitude. Pierre-Jean is an innovative self-starter who usually exceeds expectations.

His strengths include the ability to work well with a variety of personalities, to converse with all his classmates, and to enter easily into new situations with a lot of imagination and creativity. What is more, his English is excellent – definitely one of my best students this academic year.

Pierre has often talked about his projects to further specialize in an English-speaking country. I am convinced of his ability and motivation to learn more about the scientific or engineering world in a variety of contexts.

Also, in one of his presentations, Pierre-Jean explained to us the inner workings of his Segway. He described his Segway trip in the Pyrenees, and told us how much he would like to live the same experience again in the United States. With his friends, he is preparing this trip very carefully and I hope their project will get all the support it deserves.
